Police Hold Man

Two Break-Ins
Net $1,700 Total

Arrest of a suspect by Colwood RCMP last night climaxed police investigation of one of two break-ins in the Victoria area which netted thieves a total of $1,700 over the holiday week end.

Held for breaking and entering and theft of $1,200 from Colwood Inn on Monday evening is Richard Albert Brooks, about 35, of Millstream Road, Langford.

Meanwhile, city police continued their investigations into the $500 theft from Grand Spot News, 707 Yates.

Police said thieves forced a window on the second floor of the Colwood Inn sometime between 7.30 p.m. and midnight Monday and gained entrance to the living quarters.

The money was taken from the safe, which was not locked, but the thief missed another $1,000 which was sitting on top of the safe at the time.

The theft was discovered by Tommy Tucker, manager, when he went upstairs to do his books after the beer parlor had closed.

RCMP said Brooks would appear in Colwood court today.

The city theft was reported early Monday and H. A. Welch, proprietor of the Grand Spot, said $500 had been taken from the two metal cash boxes. Entry had been gained through a skylight.

Storm Skirts Islands

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edna appeared to be turning toward the northwest Tuesday night as it roared past the eastern Bahamas with winds up to 115 miles an hour.

At midnight the season's fifth hurricane was about 50 miles north northwest of San Salvador Island and almost due east of Nassau, capital of the Bahamas. Nassau is 190 miles east southeast of Miami.

The northern Bahamas Islands of Eleuthera and Great Abaco were in the hurricane danger zone. They were advised to continue all hurricane precautions. Florida remained on the alert.

Three Hurt In Collision

Three persons were injured and more than $1,000 damage caused when two vehicles met head on on Quadra near Cook late last night.

Mrs. C. J. Pugh, 1052 Lodge, suffered a broken nose, broken rib and shock; James Benbow, Lincoln Hotel, one of the drivers, severe lacerations to the forehead, and Charles Pugh, driver of the other vehicle, received shock and a bad shaking up.

Softhearted Stevedores Save Minnie the Moocher

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen's hearts Tuesday proved stout enough—with the help of an air drill—to melt concrete, and tough Minnie the Moocher survived a week in a tomb.

Minnie is an alley cat, mother of a litter of eight. Her first glimpse of life six years ago was of Brooklyn's Pier 33, and Pier 33 has been her virtual horizon since.

The burly stevedores who frequent the pier adopted her as their own. She was a plague to waterfront rats.

Six days ago Minnie crawled down under Pier 33 to keep cool. Shortly thereafter, because the pier needed repair, a gang of men with concrete mixers appeared, and in 500 feet of 15-inch concrete blossomed where none had been before.

Leading Churchman Arrives

With officers and seamen of a naval guard aboard HMCS Ontario, the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, with Mrs. Fisher and Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard, FOPC, chatted before they stepped ashore yesterday to be welcomed to the farthest-west diocese of the Church of England in Canada.

Nations Agree on Details Of SEATO; To Sign Today

MANILA (UP)—Final agreement was reached today on a treaty patterned after the Monroe doctrine binding eight nations together as a bulwark against aggression, colonialism and subversion in Southeast Asia.

Diplomats from the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand, Great Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States completed three days of secret talks and were to sign the historic document at 4 p.m. (4 a.m. EDT).

The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was regarded as a personal victory for U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who proposed it last April when the war in Indo-China was nearing a climax.

The SEATO pact contains these major provisions: In the event a member nation is the victim of attack or subversion, the others will consult and, after satisfying constitutional requirements, go to the aid of the injured nation.

The eight nations will cooperate in improving the economic health and social well-being of each other in order to combat subversion.

The term "aggression" embraced any and all aggression in the treaty area. The United States, however, offered a reservation, accepted by the others, that it would act only in the event of Communist aggression or if members agreed that joint action must be taken.

The treaty marks the first important formal agreement between East and West to join forces against subversion and aggression.

And, despite Communist charges that it was "a war alignment from head to bottom," it is defined as a strictly defensive pact in line with the United Nations Charter.

The treaty left the door open for other nations in Southeast Asia to join SEATO. The treaty area excluded Formosa and the Republic of Korea.

Thief Destroys 42-Year Dream

LONDON (CP)—Tong Song came to Britain from China 42 years ago because of a postcard.

It pictured a little English seaside town and Tong Song thought he would like to live in such a place. That cost money, so he took a job as a cook in London, a city he did not like.

Year by year Tong saved his money, dreaming of a cottage by the sea.

Recently he counted his savings and found he had £1,045—just enough for his cottage. But a thief broke into Tong Song's house and stole all his money.

Said Tong Song, now 65, to a reporter: "Never mind; getting to like London now."

Canada's New Bank Notes Now Circulating in City

Canada's new bank notes—the first bearing the Queen's likeness—went into circulation in Victoria yesterday at several banks.

It is the start of a change-over involving about 160,000,000 notes worth about $1,500,000,000. The average value of bills in circulation at any given time.

The new notes are very different to the old ones. The Queen's picture is switched to the right from the traditional centre, and the bills are one-eighth of an inch shallower at 3 1/2 inches.

Colors of the two-tone notes are deeper and richer, but basically the same.

A prairie grain field is shown on the green-grey $1 bill; a Central Canadian village is on the peach-orange $2 note.

A pine scene and river rapids are featured on the blue-mauve $5 bill; a Rocky Mountain peak fills the $10 salmon-purple note.

Laurentian winter scene is borne on the olive-grey $20 note. Atlantic Ocean breakers are featured on the orange-grey $50 bill, while the sepia-grey $100 bill depicts a lake and rolling hills.

The following piece of information is of little use to the average Victorian, but a charming covered-bridge is shown on the even more charming rose-grey $1,000 bill.

Straight Contest Favored

YOUNGSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Florence Chadwick yesterday challenged two of Canada's outstanding long-distance swimmers to be with her next year when she attempts the Strait of Juan de Fuca between Victoria and Port Angeles.

Miss Chadwick, who failed to last six hours in the icy waters off Victoria last month, challenged Mrs. Winnie Roach Leuzler, 28, of St. Thomas, Ont., and Marilyn Bell, 17, of Toronto.

She said the strait was "the Mount Everest of channel swims."

Miss Chadwick's challenge came yesterday after both girls said they would swim against the crack San Diego swimmer in her attempt to cross Lake Ontario.

The swim was once again postponed last night as a near 30-mile-an-hour breeze churned the lake into white-capped frenzy.

Organic Unity Wrong For Churches—Fisher

Archbishop Outlines Protestantism Need

BY BRUCE LOWTHER

A sort of Commonwealth of churches and not organic unity is the aim of Protestant church members around the world, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Geoffrey Francis Fisher told a press conference shortly after his arrival in Victoria yesterday.

The 67-year-old Archbishop of Canterbury, first leader of the world Anglican Communion to visit Victoria and B.C., said, "I devoutly hope organic unity won't come for some time. It would be the worst thing for Christendom."

Referring to the recent meeting of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill., he said, "We're after a free interchange of spiritual life... intercommunion and where necessary, interordination and interconsecration of bishops."

"When that comes, we can work together with no objections," he said.

Only 50 years ago, the various denominations of Protestantism were interested in each other only for purposes of controversy, now, all are on terms of friendship and there is increasing understanding.

FURTHER CHANGE

The archbishop said, "If 50 years can produce that change, I'm hopeful that another 50 years can see a further change."

"But I'm not impatient," he said. "We know where we want to go."

A major exception is the Church of Rome, which, he said, "has not yet begun to learn what Christian fellowship means." He declined to elaborate on that statement.

The goal is autonomous churches, so close that there is complete harmony; "an authority of understanding, exactly like the British Commonwealth," the archbishop added.

His Grace was unworried about political differences between the United Kingdom and the United States, calling such a "normal situation between friends."

WHY NOT DIFFER?

He asked, "Why shouldn't we differ while pursuing the same ends?"

"If we do differ," he said, "let us differ sensibly and don't get too excited about it. My concern is over those people whose professional job it is to exaggerate and play upon our differences."

He suggested the U.S. and the United Kingdom see which policy on China is the "most realistic," and then the lower should "come along without protest."

A question about British commercial television led the archbishop into a dissertation on modern ways of life, with this comment:

FULL OF GADGETS

"One of the dangers of life is that it is so full of gadgets and complications that no one has time to sit down and think."

In Canada, he saw "great ranches on the Prairies where people have plenty of time to think... They are the salt of the earth; they have more time to live and are a better kind of person than the townsmen," whose life is somewhat artificial.

A discussion of divorce led the archbishop to disclose "the deepest joy of my life... this work with people trying to construct something."

He denied that the church ejects divorced persons who marry, and stated church policy allows them to be readmitted to communion at the discretion of bishops.

In Calgary Sunday, the archbishop said that atheistic Communism is deliberately determined to destroy the Christian religion.

Planned Building Biggest in World

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan is being considered to erect "the largest structure in the world" on the site of Grand Central Terminal, Robert R. Young, chairman of the New York Central Railroad, said Tuesday. This would mean tearing down the present terminal building.

Young said this plan was among a number submitted by architects and developers on request so that the "air rights"—the space above the terminal—could be utilized because of high taxes paid by the railroad on the terminal.

The plan in question, said Young, was proposed by William Zeckendorf, president of the big New York building firm of Webb and Knapp, and is being considered along with the others. Young did not say how soon any action would be taken.

It is their estimate that a new building which would be the largest structure in the world containing upward of 5,000,000 square feet of area could produce a return consistent with its cost and the value of air rights, Young said.

Webb and Knapp said their plan is for an 80-story single tower with an elevated plaza lower and an observation tower.

His Grace envisions "commonwealth of churches."

Full Coverage Scheduled For Archbishop's Visit

The three most outstanding events in which the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Geoffrey Fisher will participate while in Victoria, will be broadcast by radio and probably by TV.

The Colonist will give full coverage to all events and services in which the Archbishop of Canterbury will appear.

Thursday the archbishop's address to the combined Canadian Clubs will be taped and broadcast by CJVI at 7 p.m.

Sunday, the 11 a.m. services at Christ Church Cathedral will be broadcast "live" by the same station at that hour, and in the same way the evening services at Memorial Arena, where His Grace also preaches, will be broadcast at 7.30 p.m.

Nationalists Hit Red China Fort

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Fortress and other Red military Chinese Nationalist planes and warships returned to the Amoy area of Red China today and bombarded a threatening Communist buildup there for the third straight day, the defense ministry announced.

The hammering began at daybreak and was still continuing at noon.

The air and sea attack today again pounded a white stone today.

Program 'Radiolift' Keeps CKDA on Air

Radio station CKDA of Victoria is in the midst of a "radiolift" of its entire program schedule because of major technical difficulties which cropped up Sunday morning.

Officials said last night the delicate microwave unit which connected CKDA's downtown studios with the new $100,000 transmitter on Chatham Island was damaged, but should be back to normal "very shortly."

The microwave system was being used temporarily until a cable was strung 9,700 feet to Chatham Island later this month.

All programs are being taped recorded at the downtown studios. They are then rushed to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club by taxi and taken to the transmitter by boat or small plane.

The recordings, which are replaced as close to the regular CKDA schedule as possible, are going on the air about 30 minutes after they are made at the studios, and the ferry trip to the island is being made once an hour.

CKDA was off the air for about seven hours Sunday after the damage occurred.

Teen-Agers Stand Trial

NEW YORK (CP)—Two Brooklyn teen-agers went to trial Tuesday to fight against paying with their own lives for the vicious beating that killed a father of four.

The victim was Thomas A. Condon, 40, ex-marine and partner in an air-conditioning supply firm. His death was one of the earlier manifestations of youthful crime that rocked the city this summer.

Condon was walking home early July 10, humming to himself. Something about him apparently did not please several youths seated on a doorstep across the street. Words were exchanged and Condon was punched and knocked to the ground. Then he was kicked to death.

Return to private life was announced last night by New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey. Twice the Republican nominee for president and 12 years in his present post, Dewey said he would not under any circumstances be a candidate for any public office this fall.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

SCIENCE has been busy of late prying into the secrets of the barnyard and the swamp.

A Michigan expert says that pigs, if confined in a small place, tend to bite one another's tails and turn into cannibals. The best way to avoid this hog-eat-hog state of affairs is to hang an old tire in the sty.

"Hogs in a small pen need something more than just sleeping and eating," says the news story.

A full trough and a cosy bed in the mire are not enough. The hog has his finer feelings, too. He is even more like a human being than we thought. He wants circuses in addition to bread.

As two-legged folk need movies, art galleries and wrestling matches, friend hog needs his old tire to sublimate those primitive urges and soothe the porcine soul.

A learned man in Edmonton seeks a method of finding out, by X-ray on the hoof, what kind of bacon or ham a pig is going to produce. This seems a coarse procedure, like forcing a man to announce the terms of his will before he is dead.

A professor in Texas finds that chickens are too lazy to drink water if the pan is any farther away than 10 feet—although they are thirsty creatures, and need a lot of liquid.

You can make a chicken drink, but you can't lead it to water.

Another Texas man says that frogs and toads croak with regional accents.

He produced this startling item of new knowledge at a convention of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

The Texas man and his helpers went out with a tape recorder, setting down for posterity the cries made by frogs in Texas, Oklahoma and Arizona.

The wives and girl friends of those scientists deserve a lot of sympathy. When people asked what their men did for a living, they had no choice but to answer: "He makes tape recordings of frogs' voices."

I can imagine the neighborhood gossip-monger clicking her tongue sadly as she walked away: "That professor's wife—not quite right in the head, poor thing. Sakes alive! She told me her husband's job was interviewing frogs."

Unlikely as it sounds, however, the scientists did just that. Right now we don't know whether or not Texas frogs croaked in a rasping, boastful drawl, but we may safely assume that they swelled with pride.

We may look for the scientist to carry his work farther afield. It will be interesting to hear about Georgia frogs that say "Brrr-ack-ak, yo all."

A lot of us would like to know what percentage of Canadian frogs are bilingual.

Garden Notes

Don't Bother Planting Pips

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRIS

At one time or another, almost all of us have felt the urge to plant the seed of a fruit tree. Perhaps it was the stone of an apple or pear or peach. I imagine, in most cases, the motivation is one of curiosity, a wish to know "what will come of it."

Fruit seeds have a habit of germinating easily, and producing seedlings which grow surprisingly rapidly, so before very long the curious gardener finds himself confronted with a lusty young sapling which threatens to take up far more space than a small garden can afford, and which shows no inclination whatever to bear any fruit.

I wouldn't go so far as to condemn this practice. After all, it is a lot of fun and does no harm, and I have to confess that I have a pretty fair apricot tree in my garden grown in this way, while two of my most prized house plants are a lemon and an avocado, both grown from seed. The novice gardener should, however, have some idea of what he is getting into, and should plant his fruit seed with his eyes open.

MOSTLY MONGRELS

First of all, it must be realized that nearly all our garden fruits are mongrels, in the sense that their parents were two different varieties, and the chances are that their parents and grandparents were mongrels also. So the chance of the seedling fruit resembling the fruit from which the seed was taken is about as remote as the pups from a pair of Heinz terriers—the kind with 57 varieties in their make-up.

Very few of our garden fruits are the result of planned crosses, and nearly all of them are chance seedlings. One out of thousands and thousands of trees is different, producing a superior type of fruit. This one is christened, and henceforth becomes a new variety.

Stark's Golden Delicious, for instance, was a single tree of unknown parentage discovered on a remote farm of a West Virginia mountaineer. The Stark people paid $5,000 for the tree, and surrounded it with a burglar-proof cage, where it has been producing buds and grafts for similar trees ever since.

I mention this to illustrate how rare it is for the fruit of a seedling to be any improvement upon the known varieties. The chances for the fruit from your particular seedling to be even as good as its parent, let alone better, are about as good as your chances of winning the Irish Sweep.

The second thing to remember is that seedling fruit trees, like any other babies, have to live out their youth before they start to reproduce. This period may be ten to 15 years for an apple or pear, a bit less for a peach, and a bit longer for a cherry or plum. This youthful period of unfruitfulness may be shortened a little by artificial means such as root-pruning, bark-ringering, or starving the tree, but these are not practices to be recommended. This is a long time to wait to find out what kind of fruit your pet seedling will bear. The only way you can satisfy your curiosity sooner is to cut a bud or scion from your mystery seedling and graft it onto a bearing tree of the same general type, where it should flower and fruit in two or three years.

Plane Protest Put Before UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States has put its latest brush with Russia before the United Nations.

Premier 54

PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT

A day off to celebrate his birthday was the gift Premier W. A. C. Bennett got to mark his 54th anniversary Monday. He spent the day with his family at Kelowna.

The U.S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, Monday night asked for an "early meeting" of the UN Security Council to take up the shooting down of a U.S. navy plane off Siberia Saturday by Soviet jet fighters.

The navy plane was the sixth U.S. military aircraft shot down by the Russians either in Europe or over the Pacific, but this is the first time Washington has brought such an incident before the world body.

Lodge returned unexpectedly to New York from a holiday to make the surprise move. He telephoned his request for the council meeting to Francisco Urrutia de la Haza, the 11-member group's president for September.

In a brief statement from his delegation headquarters, Lodge said he had asked the council "to consider the situation arising from the unprovoked attack . . . by aircraft of the Soviet Union over international waters."

Nine of the 10 men aboard the Neptune patrol bomber were rescued unharmed after drifting all night on a raft. One man apparently went down with the plane.

Cornthwaite Funeral This Afternoon

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. today for John Arthur Cornthwaite, 57, of 1007 Esplanade, who died Saturday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Rev. J. A. Roberts will officiate at McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel, and cremation will follow.

Mr. Cornthwaite was business agent for the Machinists, Fitters and Helpers, Local 3 (C.I.O.), and a prominent figure in local sports circles.

A native of Kent, England, he falsified his age when 15 to serve in the British Army in India before coming to Canada in the late 1920s.

He worked in local shipyards on his arrival in Victoria 10 years ago, and was a union agent for periods during the last seven years.

Mr. Cornthwaite was a director of Victoria Shamrocks Lacrosse Club, and silent tribute was paid him before Monday night's game.

He was actively associated with local cricket and soccer, and was an enthusiastic angler. Surviving at home are his widow, Gladys, and a daughter, Patricia.

Teacher Dies In Classroom

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thomas Spargo, 34-year-old high school mathematics teacher, died of a heart attack here Tuesday—alone in his classroom on the first day of school.

He taught in Ladysmith for 16 years before moving to Vancouver.

MAIN CULPRIT

The common cold is responsible for most absenteeism in school and industry.

ZELLERBACH CANADA LIMITED

Evasion of B.C. Sales Tax

INTENSIFIED efforts by the British Columbia government to collect the 5 per cent provincial sales tax on goods brought into the province from elsewhere illustrates an inherent weakness which was detected and commented on when the coalition government introduced the tax several years ago. It is manifestly impossible for the government's officials to collect all or even a substantial proportion of the revenue sought from this source, because the circumstances in which it is levied make evasion all too easy. That being so it might be more practical for the government first to re-examine the act and the regulations to see whether they are sound.

Reference to the courts might help in this connection. Although the law has stood uncontested for several years in this province and in others where a retail sales tax is imposed, doubt lingers on the question of whether or not a tax on goods crossing provincial boundaries is within the powers of a provincial government. It has long been understood that tariffs and customs taxes on imports belong exclusively to the Dominion. By whatever name it may be called, a tax on goods brought in from any foreign country would appear to trespass on federal taxing territory; and also a tax on goods entering from another part of Canada would seem to constitute interference with inter-provincial trade.

Apart from the legal situation the practical aspect of collection is fraught with difficulties and expense. Mention has been made of the possibility of stationing collectors along-side federal customs inspectors at all points of entry. That of course would cover only goods brought in from foreign countries. To make collection as nearly complete as possible would necessitate inspections inside Canada as well, at every point where a railway or highway crosses the border and at airports also. It is most unlikely that the traveling public would tolerate such regimentation in their own country.

That people returning to British Columbia with goods bought outside show scant respect for the sales tax law is well known, which leads to the conclusion that it is not a good law. While it might be possible by means of inspections and other devices to increase the revenue derived from imports, the government could never hope to collect on small purchases. How could any inspector determine where a traveler has bought his necktie, for example? Yet there is no difference in principle between evasion of tax to the tune of a few cents and evasion representing large sums. Attempts to exact by halting travelers and examining their effects would not only cause indignation but also would encourage lying and deceit, which scarcely seems desirable for the sake of some additional revenue.

Soviet Peace Offensive

THE Soviet peace offensive has been an integral part of the Kremlin's cold war technique in all the postwar period. In propaganda it is played to the limit, especially where Russia and her satellites come in contact with the buffer states between them and the very loosely organized group of nations representing the free democracies of the world. To Russia in the communist line is attributed the whole and undivided aim of world peace. To the free democracies are allotted the charges of war-mongering, sabre-rattling and so forth. Yet the initial reason why the free world is re-arming is that after the last conflict Russia refused to disarm.

It is a military fact that Russia has the largest standing army on the flanks of Europe, an advanced air force equipped with the latest offensive jet-propelled aircraft, and a submarine fleet and pens which would have been the envy of Hitler a decade ago. These are not the accoutrements of peace; nor can they be glossed over by counter declaration of the world's belligerency. Twice in succession the Kremlin blocked direct United Nations proposals for disarmament through use of the veto and by failure to entertain in any fashion a gradual move towards limitation of offensive weapons.

It may be that, in the initial stages at any rate, Soviet Russia used the peace motif as a means of reassuring her own people that this great parade of armed might was not intended to hold them in check internally. From that, however, the propagandists of the Kremlin soon got to telling those within the iron curtain of the dangers of encirclement, enlarging on a fear and threat of attack. With this as the settled policy any admission to the contrary would not be likely to be made through Pravda or any of the other official outlets of communist policy. Yet the underlying facts have not altered. Russia's bid for world peace comes from the largest armed camp in world history.

Occupied School Zones

SOMEWHERE between 12,000 and 15,000 children of school age completed the summer holidays on Labor Day and yesterday were registering at Greater Victoria schools. That means that large gatherings of children will be found at street crossings in the break-away hours, and a scattered procession of them more or less throughout the ordinary business hours of the day. This, the normal condition of a commencing school year, will impose a concurrent responsibility upon motorists during the next few weeks until the school patrols themselves have made the children traffic-wise. Particularly is this so at the resumption of classes after the long vacation.

For motorists it means that they will need to brush up on their knowledge of the whereabouts of school zones, and to exercise due care in such areas at most of the daylight hours. With the shift system in effect at some schools, some classes will be assembling or breaking-up at times outside of the normal school day. Then in registration week there are always children going between home and school, or from school into town textbook shopping or for other requirements. In a few days the abnormal congestion settles down, and most children learn to stick to the rules in traffic.

It is in just this period—the first week or ten days of school—that a little extra precaution is needed at all points where students come into contact with urban traffic streams. The pressure points at 9 a.m., noon, and again between 3 and 4 p.m., will soon be taken care of by the trained school patrols, but for a little while motorists can help by being watchful enough to prevent untoward incidents. Young people have a lot on their minds as they return to school. Bye and bye they will steady down, and stop, look and listen in exemplary fashion. Let's make the interval accident-free.

Interpreting the News

More Dignity Doubtful

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

THERE is something sour about the spectacle of the United States always protesting these plane shoddies while the Reds accuse her of always being at fault.

Instead of merely sending notes and making demands for indemnities, the state department has now decided to take the latest case before the United Nations Security Council, which handles matters which are considered a threat to peace.

But whether this will lend any increased dignity to the situation is doubtful. In the first place, nobody is going to consider the incident an immediate threat to peace, even though it be the sort of thing which increases friction and tension between nations which already are enemies.

In the second place Russia, with her security council veto, has the upper hand against any action on this or other such incidents, and there is a question about who will get the greatest propaganda value.

Certainly there are enough Asiatics who resent the presence of American armed forces there to give the Russians a broad field to cultivate when they point out how far the American plane was from home, and how near it was to the mainland of Russia. Or if they ask what the United States would do if a Russian military plane was sighted within 50 or 100 miles of a big American naval base.

This is not to condone the meaning or the effect of the brutality which Russia displays at all times in these situations. But nothing is to be gained by losing an objective approach to their consideration.

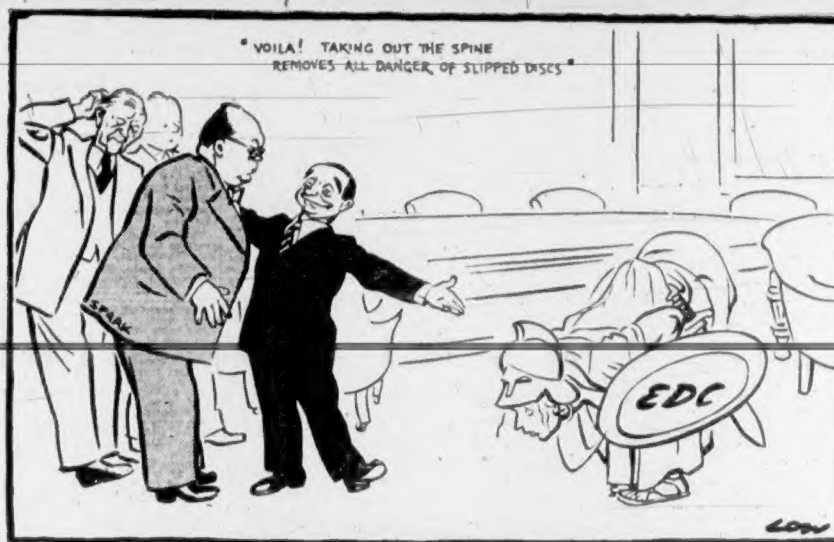

It's been going on for four years. A navy Privateer disappears on a training flight over the Baltic. The Russians take a boasting attitude about the defense of their coasts.

Four clashes have occurred in the Far East in about a year.

This type of clash is a persistent thing when two growing ground armies face each other across any border.

If propaganda requirements demand that the record be made clear in each of these cases—and it should be done—and that the hard and brutal transgression of Soviet Russia be held up before the world, well and good.

But the American case in the latest incident has been sadly weakened by the early errors which said the American plane had not done any shooting, when it had, and that it was where it wasn't. There are reasons to believe that many meetings like this, though perhaps without such drastic results, have occurred repeatedly up Bering Strait way as the result of intense reconnaissance prodding by both sides, with both sides in the role of invader at times.

Juvenile Crime

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THE indictment of four Brooklyn youths—aged 18, 17, 17 and 15—for joint participation in two particularly atrocious and unprovoked murders highlights the outstanding American shame: juvenile crime.

Now the wheels of justice begin to grind. The parents of two of them have employed famous and high-priced trial lawyers; and we shall probably read testimony of psychiatrists and comments by social workers.

But soon the case will be forgotten if only because other cases and new headlines will supplant it. Its most hideous feature is that it is not extraordinary. Vandalism, burglary, kidnapping, rape, murder and every kind of violence committed by juveniles have become so commonplace as to hold the attention of the newspapers for only a short time or, where lesser delinquencies are involved, never to reach them at all.

Juvenile crime is not confined to any social class or type of neighborhood. It occurs in middle-class suburbs and country towns as well as slums. It is committed by economically privileged as well as underprivileged children. And it involves youngsters who initially at least were neither subnormal nor abnormal.

It afflicts all countries, but is worst in the United States. It occurs when the economic standard of living is highest; when education through secondary school is all but universal; when psychiatric treatment is more available than ever before; and when every newspaper is advising parents how to bring up their children.

It occurs in "the century of the child" and of "progressive education," when only the other day a learned psychologist advised a teachers' convention that "this is an age of equal rights for children; you can't push them around any more; you must begin to learn that . . . punishment brings no results."

If one puts all the symptoms together they add up to a society in which inhibitions are ceasing to be cultivated, and of children who progressively get away with minor offenses, beginning with disobedience and impertinence until offending becomes a mounting habit, of adults who for commercial gain pandering lewdness and violence to the naturally excitable imaginations and adolescents in the form of comics and in cops-and-robbers movies and television programs in which, to the adolescent imagination, the wicked criminal is usually more interesting than the "dick."

Great Britain has reduced juvenile delinquency during recent months by 14 per cent. The methods are hardly modern. Starting on the entirely correct assumption that children are not naturally civilized and that it is a parental and educational function to make them so, parents of juvenile delinquents are arraigned with their offspring and heavily fined.

On the Isle of Man child delinquents nabbed in the act are given a strapping on the spot by an irate policeman—and, believe it or not—child crime has plummeted! Teachers are permitted corporal punishment in cases of gross indiscipline—and have quiet classrooms. Movies are graded, and juveniles, with or without their parents, are barred from many. Television is strictly supervised and free of gore. Horror comics are unobtainable—except in American army spots.

On the affirmative side youth clubs are proliferating and theatrical performances for children are manifold and in every sizable town.

This is as old-fashioned as a mustard plaster for a chest cold. Both happen to work.

Reports from Ottawa

SEVERAL Liberal members of Parliament from Quebec have told me they expect a solution to the income tax stalemate between Ottawa and Quebec City will be worked out before long.

What they're predicting is a kind of face-saving compromise which will give Premier Duplessis the revenues he wants, and at the same time will so stifle the Quebec cry of tax discrimination that it won't be an issue in the 1957 election.

They admit the logic of the position former Finance Minister Abbott took last spring, when he refused to countenance the deduction of the entire Quebec income tax from the federal tax. But they're not at all convinced that logic will be enough to keep double-taxed Quebecers voting Liberal.

If the tax dispute threatens their personal re-election chances, it also threatens the firm hold the Liberal Party has on federal representation from Quebec. The maintenance of that firm grip is of paramount importance to the continuation of Liberal rule at Ottawa. That is why the Liberal MPs are confident that a solution to the impasse will be found well before the next general election.

One Grit member went so far as to hint at a deal whereby the federal government would pay a large share of the cost of developing the power potential of the St. Lawrence River at Lachine, Que., in return for action by Quebec to reduce the provincial tax to a size which Finance Minister Harris could swallow without strangling.

Ottawa has asked Quebec to undertake a concurrent power development at Lachine, but Duplessis has been cool toward the idea. Quebec doesn't particularly need extra power right now, and Duplessis' relations with Ottawa aren't such that he's likely to develop Lachine just to oblige the central government.

However, Quebec Hydro could sell surplus power to power-short Ontario. If Ottawa put up the money for the Lachine development, or at least a large share of it, and Quebec Hydro got the revenue from selling the power, Duplessis might be interested.

Specifically, he might then be willing to cut his provincial income tax from 45 per cent of the federal levy to, say, 7 per cent. If he did, Ottawa could make it deductible from federal tax without loss of face, since the 7 per cent Quebec corporation tax already is deductible from federal corporation tax.

It's highly unlikely that any Ottawa-Quebec agreement to trade tax revenues for power revenues would be as simple and obvious as this. The federal government's contributions to the Lachine power development might be extensively rationalized, and ostensibly have no connection with a subsequent Quebec move to cut the provincial tax rate.

Ottawa could explain a contribution toward the cost of developing Lachine power by arguing that the project was a necessary adjunct to the seaway. And Duplessis could explain a tax cut—if such action ever needs explaining—on humanitarian grounds.

Such a solution would be a neat wrap-up of a nasty situation so far as the Grit politicians in Quebec are concerned, but there's no indication yet that the wily premier would buy. He's a man of principles—one of them being to augment the Grits' political difficulties whenever he can, rather than co-operate to lessen them. He might not desert that principle even for a power plant.

That Cars May Live

(From The Ottawa Journal)

THE Studebaker and Packard people have our goodwill in their amalgamation but we beg them to hear our plaintive cry against any more changes in names.

We would hate to put this familiar pair in the cemetery with the others—Durant, Star, Grey-Dort, Maxwell, KRIT, Essex, Franklin, Stanley, Pierce-Arrow, Willys-Knight, to mention but a few with which we had acquaintance.

In our youth the barn housed a brassy Napier, supposed to have a marvelous engine, but not at home in these mournful paragraphs because it was English and never was nursed or coaxed along the bumpy trails in numbers as were Maxwells, which strong men swore by or swore at.

Franklin cars were ahead of their time; they were air-cooled and inspired terrific loyalties. The Stanley steamers, had they been prompter in starting, might have kept the gasoline engine in its place far longer. The Grey-Dort was looked on as a car of special merit for Canada, reputed to be harder and less temperamental than others, while the Pierce-Arrow signified prosperity and ease, the Willys-Knight had the sliken purr of a well-fed cat.

All these were familiar in boyhood and we watched their parade on the road with the eye of a trainer assessing horses in the paddock. One by one they have dropped away, victims of change or hard times or bad management or poor engineering—or amalgamation. But we think of them with affection and trust that this remaining two, who also grew up on corduroy roads, will find strength in union and imprint their names on radiator caps instead of memories.

Sympathy for John Foster Dulles is felt by each householder as the back-to-school bills force an "agonizing reappraisal" of the family budget.

The weather has been so rainy, cold and generally miserable this year that it's possible the tourist who sends home a postcard, "Wish you were here," means instead of him.

One of the requirements in science examinations was "Define a bolt and nut and explain the difference if any."

The girl student wrote, "A bolt is a thing like a stick of hard metal such as iron with a square bunch on one end and a lot of scratches wound around the other end. A nut is similar to a bolt only just the opposite being a hole in a little chunk of iron sawed off short with the wrinkles around the inside of the hole."

The startled professor marked that one with a large "A."

"What flavors of ice cream do you have?" asked the customer. The waitress answered in a hoarse whisper, "Vanilla, strawberry and chocolate."

Trying to be sympathetic he said, "You got laryngitis?"

"No," she replied with an effort. "Just vanilla, strawberry and chocolate."

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

WHY does everybody stop talking when I eat soup? Oh, you've noticed the same thing, have you? No sooner do you pick up a stick of celery than there is a sudden lull in the conversation.

If this happened only in the bosom of the family it might be taken for one of those family jokes, or "family secrets."

"Listen to Daddy eat his soup!" But it happens even in restaurants. It happens especially in the homes of comparative strangers whose guest you are, and you are trying your best to be on your most elegant behavior. There is something uncanny about it.

If it is very hot, thin soup, the kind you practically must whiff up off the spoon with a good, loud sound, you may rest assured that even in a crowded restaurant there will fall a sudden silence at the very instant of your whiff. And you feel the back of your neck go red as, perhaps only in the imagination, 20 people turn their heads to look at you with astonishment and disdain. If it is thick soup with stringy things in it, such as you are served at the home of chairmen of the board, vice-presidents, millionaires or the father of the girl you are hoping to be engaged to, there falls not only a silence but a sort of magic spell at the very moment you are trying to get the stringy things off the spoon without them dangling on your chin. At which moment, of course, all eyes at the table swivel in your direction and seem to fasten on your chin.

As for celery, I have noticed that, the more important the gathering, the crisper the celery. If you are lurching with a bunch of friends, none of whom stop talking long enough at any time to make any difference, the celery is quite limp and almost completely soundless. But get yourself seated in the dining car opposite the prettiest girl on the whole train, and let the celery be served precisely at the moment the train pulls up for a 20-minute stop, and the celery is so crisp it is practically explosive.

Mens Sana?

(From The Printed Word)

A LITTLE group of wilful, reactionary, old skinflints is opposing a proposition to tear up an acre or so of woodland that borders the community and provide a cinder track, football field and a couple of softball diamonds for the youngsters.

Some of the youngsters in the community have to walk as much as three-quarters of a mile to get to their present playing field. In winter-time this involves the extra effort of carrying heavy skates and hockey equipment.

At a civic meeting to discuss the matter the other evening there wasn't a dry eye in the house as the chairman of the committee sponsoring the project told of humiliation experienced by the boys on the track team when they were defeated by a team from the community on the other side of the roundhouse. There were gasps of indignation when he related that the local team had been forced to train on a track only three-quarters regulation size.

He was too much of a gentleman to mention that the opposing team did not need a practice track. It was composed mainly of boys of foreign extraction who developed their leg muscles by riding delivery bicycles, walking paper routes and other un-sportsmanlike artifices; they were also accustomed to keeping up these activities all summer when the local boys were forced to be at camp or at the family summer cottage.

It was the consensus of the meeting that the lack of a regulation cinder track and other sports facilities was doing untold damage to the physical development and personalities of the growing boys of the community.

A feeble suggestion from the group of reactionary skinflints to the effect that organized athletics is not the full answer to the recreational needs of youngsters was received with the silent contempt it no doubt deserved. The unnatural monster who said that all a youngster needed to build a body like Charles Atlas was four square feet of ground and a set of Indian clubs was roundly booed. When he was heard to mutter something about the character-building value of the common lawnmower he came close to being lynched. The senile crackpot who believed that some thought might be given to the provision of a civic library or of some place where older children could hear music, put on plays and be relatively free from jolly, adult organizers was, of course, laughed down.

McCarthyism No Standard To Judge U.S. — Alsbury

BRIGHTON, England (Reo) — Anything that promises to test the Canadian delegate to the annual Trades Union Congress Tuesday urged nearly have too much. They have too little.

"We are facing depression because we have too much. They are starving because they have too little."

Tom Alsbury of Vancouver speaking as a fraternal delegate from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada told the delegates representing 8,000,000 workers:

"Unfortunately, all too often, screaming headlines are devoted to the hotbeds, blackheads and empty heads on both sides of the Atlantic."

It is high time in the interests of better understanding among the people of Britain, the United States and Canada that this practice is reversed."

ABHOR MCCARTHYISM

He said there are "many thousands of people across the Atlantic who abhor McCarthyism as much as anyone in this hall."

Alsbury, president of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, referred to Aida Stevenson as "a great American who is also a great citizen of the world." Many Canadians, he added, share Stevenson's views about negotiating in good faith with Russia and striving to help the peoples of Asia obtain decent living standards and freedom.

Appealing for economic aid to fight Communism, Alsbury said it is obvious people are turning to Communism "not because they believe in Marx, but because they do not understand, but because they are hungry, which they understand only too well."

This simple idea is "apparently beyond the vision of some big American Republicans, some well-fed Canadians and perhaps some leading lights in this country."

"Surely none of us believe that we can win today's struggle, which is basically a battle for food more than a battle against Communism with pious slogans about our democratic way of life or some little sermon about the wonders of our skyscrapers and Coca Cola and flashy cars and flush toilets..."

Alsbury also told the congress that two-thirds of the world's population go to bed hungry every night.

"They will turn to anybody."

LADYSMITH — The Old Age Pensioners' Association annual banquet will be held in the Eagles' Hall at 7 p.m. September 21. Members of the Pythian Sisters will enter as they have for several years. Guest speaker will be provincial president Ralph Coles.

that his province is not grateful for one of its British imports — Social Credit. He said that Social Credit was introduced to the province by people not content to leave it alone, but made it worse with Canadian improvements.

"By words and deed some of its leaders have shown that the are anti-American, anti-United Nations and pro-McCarthy," he said.

Critiquing the Canadian housing shortage, he said it is literally true "you can't see the houses for the trees — they haven't been built yet."

Alsbury told the congress:

France Promises Viet Nam Freedom

SAIGON (Reuters) — Gen. corps attended the ceremony, which marked the transfer by general and commander-in-chief of the French to the Viet Namese government of the palace. The French has always been considered a symbol of French colonialism in Indo-China.

He summed up France's policy toward Vietnam as "full independence, full support."

A Viet Namese soldier later hoisted the French flag which now floats beside Viet Nam's as a token of Franco-Viet friendship.

Traffic Toll Down

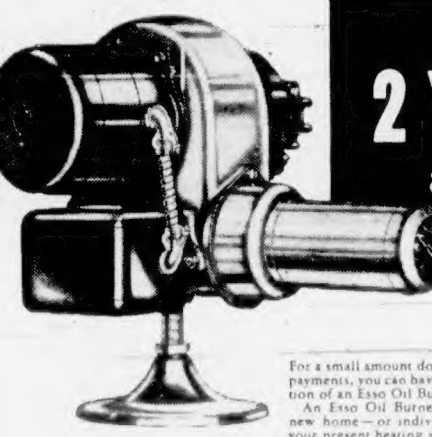

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths in the United States during the long Labor Day week ended touched a six-year low point for the holiday.

The final tabulation Tuesday showed there were 364 traffic deaths, 92 drownings and 83 deaths from other accidental causes. The total was 539.

The number of lives lost in traffic was the smallest for any Labor Day period since 1948 when 293 were killed.

Lockout Threatens

PORT ALBERNI—Garage workers in two operations left their jobs here at 3.30 p.m. yesterday and those in five other garages in the Twin Cities may be locked out today.

Fourteen members of the B.C. Autoworkers' Union, Local 1857, in Meyers Holland Motors Ltd. and Ohs Brothers Garage voted Friday night to strike, and under regulations of the Labor Relations Act gave the required 48 hours' notice before leaving their jobs.

Operators of the five other garages at the same time gave notice that, in the event of the two crews leaving their jobs, employees would be locked out.

Terry McCarthy, spokesman for the striking workers, said the strike was called to enforce conciliation board recommendation of a 40-hour week, with guaranteed take-home pay of $72 a week, including payment for nine statutory holidays.

He named "Biff's" Body Shop, Redman Motors, Herb Barnes Motors, Port Motors and Torne Brothers as the operations which may be locking out workers this morning.

COURTENAY—Fire which broke out about 1.30 a.m. Sunday destroyed The Maples, well-known fried chicken cafe between here and Roslyn.

No one was injured, but the building was leveled and by 6 a.m. only embers remained. The fire is believed to have started in the kitchen and was fed by the oil for the cook stove and the fat used for frying. Attempts to quell the blaze had little chance. The cottage next door, occupied by the operators of the cafe, was kept wet by firemen and was undamaged.

NANAIMO—School enrollment for Nanaimo was approximately 3,850, an increase of 250 over attendance figures for last June. Of this increase, 160 are enrolled at the senior high, making the total there 650. The rest of the 250 are scattered throughout the city schools.

The Quennell School, which underwent some reconstruction during the holidays, will not be ready until Thursday. Grade 9 pupils will have the extra days as holidays.

NANAIMO—Official opening of the new health centre takes place on September 23 and 24, when the public will be invited to inspect the new building.

In the meantime, health officials have moved into their new quarters. On Thursday of last week the first child health conference was held there with more than 30 infants and pre-school children attending.

The clinic will be held in the new building from now on.

KYUQUOT—The Kyuquot fishery patrol boat Sarda arrived home a few days ago, after an absence of two months while she was thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The Sarda was rushed back to Kyuquot when fishery officer Jack Emberton demanded a boat immediately so he could inspect the inlets and rivers.

One-Day Employee Faces Trial

DUNCAN—A young man who had been employed only one day at the Maple Bay Inn was charged in police court Tuesday with theft of a cash box containing $354 in cash and a negotiable cheque. He was committed for trial after a preliminary hearing.

Wilfred Gee had been employed Saturday morning to work in the beer parlor. During the supper hour closure of the beer parlor he had been drinking, and when he came on duty at 7 p.m. he was discharged by the proprietor, Arnold Spencer.

At about 9 p.m. Mrs. I. E. MacPhee, joint owner, found the accused in the dwelling she shared with the Spencers, and then found the cash box in one of the hallways of the dwelling, she testified. She called police.

Police Magistrate E. G. Bryant presided at the hearing.

KYUQUOT—Jimmy Dewar, government cougar hunter, has headed back to Port Alberni with his hounds, after a week's unsuccessful hunting.

Mr. Dewar was called after a cougar killed a pet dog belonging to Arthur Gahan. He combed the woods in the vicinity for several days but was unable to find any sign of the predator.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Preparations for the reopening of the play school were the main business of the September meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Co-operative Play Group. Mrs. M. Tait presided at the meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kennedy.

The term will start with an enrollment of 10 children, and Mrs. H. Ronnigen, secretary, reported that there are several vacancies.

Mrs. G. Rodger will again be in charge, with mothers assisting in turn.

CHEMUNUS—Rev. James T. Scorgie, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Chemunus, leaves this week for a new pastorate in Vancouver.

With Mrs. Scorgie and small son Glen, he attended a farewell party given by his parishioners at the church Monday night.

KYUQUOT—The Kyuquot school teacher's position has been filled, although no details are available yet. Residents were becoming uneasy when no teacher seemed available for the one-room school.

Women Firefighters Compete First Time in Island Meet

PORT ALBERNI—A precedent was established here on Labor Day when women firefighters entered teams in a "one-man event" of the Vancouver Island Firefighter's Association annual competition.

Five ladies from Great Central and Cedar district failed to place in making and breaking couplings on 1½-inch hose. Winning team was Chemainus volunteer fire department, with a time of 36.5 seconds. MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., Port Alberni pulp mill division was second and Ladysmith municipal fire department third.

In the Allen Cup event, with five men's teams handling a mystery fire arranged by Fire Chief William Venables of the Port Alberni host team, Ladysmith took the honors, with Chemainus volunteers placing second. A mixed team from Cedar district, men and women working together under Chief Frank Shaw, was third, and Chemainus division, MacMillan and Bloedel, fourth.

Sooke Folk Disappointed As Sockeye Avoid Traps

SOOKE—Excitement has been running high in Sooke as the seine and gillnet fishing boats swarm in and out of local waters. In the wake of the record sockeye catch for some of the boat owners, not many remember the few fishermen who lost their nets as the silver horde swung by, leaving them in debt to their companies as the season neared its peak.

Why the fabulous 1954 sockeye run missed the Sooke fish traps is not recorded. Some say the weather was too calm, and a bit of a westerly breeze would have sent the sockeye in closer to shore to follow the fish trap leads. But no sockeye even noticed the fish traps.

The famous Sooke weirs, established in 1904, have been catering to the high-priced sockeye for 50 years, in four-year cycles, and Sooke recognizes the prestige of the sockeye run. Of course, the coho will follow, but this was a sockeye year, and local disappointment is keen.

GANGES—The first salmon derby organized by the Salt Spring Island Legion branch saw 43 fish weighed in, Sunday, at Fulford, Vesuvius Bay and Ganges.

The winning salmon, weighing 20 pounds, seven ounces, was caught by T. Lowrie of Galiano, who received a rod and reel. The women's first prize, a rod and reel, was won by Miss Donna Mount, the second, a reel, going to Mrs. A. Francis, for their respective catches of seven pounds, eight ounces and five pounds, nine ounces.

In the class for men over 60, G. C. Mount's six-pound 13-ounce salmon won. Ross Bryan caught the five-pound 10-ounce prize salmon for juniors. Mrs. Gordon Graham, who pulled in a 21-pound 13-ounce cod, won a gaff hook for the largest fish caught, other than a salmon.

Many Sooke oil water color artists find the seine boat fleet an interesting subject, with intricate mast roping, raised trailors, thousands of cork floats and the picturesque manner of spreading and mending nets about the piers.

Tranquil little gillnetters give a humbler contrast.

Young Sooke lads look admiringly at the fishing fleet, and seem to assemble from nowhere when the fleet comes into harbor. About 100 seiners anchor between Becher Bay and off the mouths of Kemp, Tugwell and Muir Creeks.

Alberni Valley Seeks $3,700

Many Returned to Normal Life Big Help in C.A.R.S. Campaign

PORT ALBERNI—Women training in England, has been able to care for their homes and families again after being helpless cripples for months or years among the 251 arthritic and rheumatic sufferers who have been treated here since the local C.A.R.S. clinic was opened.

The record of suffering relieved and of workers returned to their jobs is expected to contribute to the success of the first campaign for funds in the 18-month period since the clinic was opened.

Alberni Valley branch, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, will start the drive Monday, with an objective of $3,700 for carrying on the work of the organization.

MEDICAL TEAM
Dr. Lamont Havers, medical director for C.A.R.S. in B.C., and Mrs. Ruth Fortune, head physiotherapist, will visit the district on the opening day of the campaign and will broadcast Tuesday in support of the drive.

Members of the executive committee of the local branch are recruiting campaigners to cover the district.

Dr. C. A. Jamison, Medical Association representative to the C.A.R.S. branch, has emphasized that the mental attitude of the arthritic patient is a major factor in his rehabilitation. The fact that the clinic was established here has shown many local victims that the community is interested in their plight, giving them an essential boost in morale. The improved spirit with regular treatment either in their homes or in the clinic in West Coast General Hospital, has brought many of the 251 back to normal living.

HELP IN TIME
Because C.A.R.S. service is available locally, some have received help before the disease has had a crippling effect.

Those who are severely crippled are confined to their homes, so few people see the victims when arthritis has assumed its most spectacular form. William A. Greig, chairman of the Alberni Valley branch, pointed out.

Patients are referred to C.A.R.S. physiotherapist by their family doctors. Miss Margaret Cowdery, who received her March, 1953.

AUXILIARY WORK

Besides the branch's executive committee, there is a C.A.R.S. women's auxiliary, headed by Mrs. T. Foxcroft, which provides linen and other supplies for the clinic, visits patients and has organized volunteer drivers to take patients to and from hospital for their regular treatments.

A mobile clinic is part of the local setup. Driven by Miss Cowdery, the vehicle with the sign of the C.A.R.S. bluebird is seen throughout the district as she visits the homes of those who are not yet able to attend the clinic in the hospital.

LONDON (CP) — Fourteen Canadian cricketers sailed for home last week, their luggage bulging with souvenirs of a well by rewarding six-week tour of Britain.

They carried bundles of rain-soaked programs and score cards aboard the Empress of Australia in Liverpool. But chief among their trophies were the stump set Thursday, the wicket at Lord's. The Canadians carried off their prize after a three-run victory in a final two-day match against Middlesex.

"It's always good to win the last one," said team captain Basil Robinson, who saw the team off at the boat train. Robinson will stay at his Canadian government post in London.

Robinson said that the weather and injuries proved the main handicaps for the Canadians. Rain prevented play in three matches and interrupted two more.

"All signs indicate that the exchange of teams between Canada and Britain will become a regular event every two or three years," he said, "but of course it's too early to blueprint anything."

This year's tour, first undertaken officially by a Canadian team, was sponsored by the Marylebone Cricket Club which is reported to have footed a bill for more than $4,000. The Canadian Cricket Association financed an MCC tour of Canada in 1951.

Sparked by the five-goal performance of Jack Showers, rugged checking Oak Bay squad defeated Hall and Co. Big Horns, 7-5, at Stevenson Park last night in the opening game of a best-of-three series for the city juvenile lacrosse championship.

Second game of the series is scheduled at Stevenson Park Thursday night, starting at 6.

BY JIM TANG

Victoria Shamrocks yesterday lost their appeal of the decision which cost them their 6-5 Friday night victory over PNE Indians and will play the sixth game of the Inter-City Lacrosse League final at Vancouver tonight holding a 3-1 edge.

Shamrocks, who came close to refusing to play a sixth game after Monday night's hard-fought 6-5 triumph at Memorial indians had entered an official protest Saturday and at a meeting, attended by three of the five league commissioners, Sunday night, the game was ordered replayed. On hand were commissioners Ed Popham of Victoria, Frank Kenney of New Westminster, and Les Gilmore of Vancouver. Unable to attend were Bus Matthews of Nanaimo and George Weinborn of Vancouver. League officials stated that lacrosse players called for a face-off and a hand-in, but much as no face-off had taken place and the Shamrocks had received possession of the ball at the extra time, the winning goal was illegally scored.

It will be remembered that the Rocks scored the tie-breaking goal Friday just 13 seconds from full time with the Indians shorthanded due to being called ~~four~~ having too many players on the floor. The whistle was blown by the timekeeper and Indians protested hotly at the time.

Indians had possession at the time of the timekeeper's whistle and Alfie Wood went in to take a shot which hit the crossbar and bounced out before it was heard. The ball was then taken by the Rocks and Nip O'Hearn fed Jack Bionda a pass for the tie-breaking shot.

Rocks based their appeal on the belief that the Indians' protest had been based on the thought that the timekeeper erred in blowing his whistle and not on the fact there was no face-off, contending that the latter item had come up at the commission meeting. They also contend they have the right to see their written protest made by Indians. However, their appeal was denied and the series continues.

It came close to ending Monday. Team members and Shamrock officials had a clubhouse meeting after the game and there was strong support for those who felt the club should refuse point blank to continue the series.

Coach Red McMillan felt that the team should abide by the league ruling although not at all in accord with it.

"We owe it to our fans to go on with the series," he said. "They have supported us ever since we have been in the league and we can't quit now."

Manager Ralph Baker didn't say much but it was obvious what he was thinking.

Shamrocks will be without Larry Booth for tonight's game but many a sigh of relief was heaved when it was learned that Jack Bionda would be in action.

Anxious to get back to Ontario for a brother's wedding as well as to get personal affairs in order before reporting to the Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp, the high-scoring forward had his big Buick all ready to roll. Even his dishes were packed as he planned to leave with Mrs. Bionda early yesterday morning. To make certain they won't have to do without Bionda, the Shamrocks will be without the big forward for the better tonight.

Al Gill will move up to Booth's place on the line with Whitey Severson and Archie Browning and Jack Sibbald will get back into action on a line with Tom Druce and Harry Irwin. There are no other line-up changes.

Vancouver Rowing Club won the aggregate championship of the annual North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen regatta at EIR Lake Saturday and Sunday as Vancouver and Penitton rowers dominated the events.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The hustling Calgary Ashdawns took a 10 lead in the best-of-seven Western Canada softball championships here Tuesday night by dumping Vancouver MacLeans 3-1, before some 2,000 fans.

For MacLean, Harry Small fanned nine and walked five, but was touched for eight costly outs. Small had trouble with his control and lost the game before he adjusted to the longer pitching distance adopted by the Western Canada officials.

CHARGE JACKS: New York (Steve B-1) 10-11; Chicago (Tony L-14) 10-11; Philadelphia (Gray 3-B) 11; Cleveland (Wend 10-11).

"Magic" numbers are the vogue again as the major league pennant races near their climaxes and they are 13 and 15 for the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants, respectively.

Weekend play saw both the Indians and Glants move closer to a world series meeting and the emergence of the Milwaukee Braves as the chief threat to the New York club.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, lacking any form of pitch which might indicate a resurgence, were all but mathematically eliminated.

So, as the teams start their last interseasonal play today, any combination of 13 Cleveland players could be in the lineup.

HOPES REVIVED*
The defeats came after the Dodgers had renewed winning hopes with a 7-4 win over the Giants in the series finale on Sunday.

Fighting mad over having lost a victory in the committee room, Victoria Shamrock proved to the satisfaction of 5,500 ardent supporters Monday night at Memorial Arena that they can spot Stan Joseph two goals and still beat the agile Indian reminder.

Trailing, 5-3, mainly because of a second quarter letdown, the Rocks came storming from behind in a bitterly fought game to score three successive goals and hold Indians scoreless for and held Indians scoresless for the next 23 minutes and 35 seconds to score a second successive 5-5 decision over PNE Indians.

That made it four wins for the Islanders, three of them by sion — a promotion — as he strove to create an opening. Baker suddenly broke past his check, accepted the pass in stride, and his perfect bounce shot went in just inside the far post to give Joseph no chance at all.

Joseph used his stick five times — on a walk, six singles, a double and his 35th home run.

BRAVE POSITION

The Braves are four out on the losing side and could ~~erase~~ almost the whole deficit in the three games they have left win-the odd goal, in the best-of-seven series but it only gave the Rockies a 3-1 lead.

The game, played before 900 fans, produced 22 penalties, four of them five-minute majors for Sparkling of the Indians' attack was Al Jarvis, who set up four goals while Vancouver had a one-man advantage. Three of the goals came in the second quarter, the other in the third.

Long Quests for U.S. Net Titles End for Vic Seixas, Doris Hart

BY OSCAR FRALEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Doris Hart and Vic Seixas held the U.S. amateur tennis championships today—and no body believed them.

Miss Hart, the gangling gal from Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-8, 6-1, 8-6 and finally reached the top of the heap.

Seixas, too, had his share of prior disappointments. The 31-year-old Philadelphia lost to Frank Sedgman in 1951 and to Trabert last year. But Monday he was Hartwig's master—and he was Hartwig who beat Trabert in the quarter-finals and much-feared Aussie Ken Rosewall in the semi-finals.

Seixas, who won the U.S. title on his 14th try, more or less agreed with the popular conception when he admitted:

Esks To Keep Newcomers; Arnold Hurt

EDMONTON—Edmonton Eskimos will make their bid for the Grey Cup this year without the quarterback who led them to the 1953 final.

Faced with the prospect of letting either Jackie Parker, Bernie Faloney or Claude Arnold go to stay within the import limit of 10, the Eskies had their problem solved for them when Arnold was put out of action with an injury.

An injury to tackle Willie Manley, with Arnold a WFLU all-star last year, meant that Edmonton had only one player to let go. The choice was end Gilmer Spring of Texas.

Remaining with the Eskies as imports in addition to Parker and Faloney, all-Americans from Mississippi and Maryland, respectively, are backs Rolfe Miles, Johnny Bright and Glenn Lippman, tackles Bob Dean, Roger Nelson and Jim Weatherall, and ends Frank Anderson and Earl Lindley.

Canadianized (four-year men) with the club are end Rolfe Prather and centre Eagle Keys.

Victoria XI Beaten at Vancouver

Victoria's representative cricket side, minus five of the original players selected, took a thumping at Vancouver Monday in the annual Labor Day match.

Unable to do much with the bowling of Ken Ackroyd and Alan Stead, the Victorians were all out for 63 runs and Vancouver's strong club had little trouble in winning by seven wickets. The Mainlanders com-

K. Greenwood and A. L. Bristow, with 41 and 38 runs, respectively, were high Victoria batsmen.

Toronto Trading Heavy

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market recorded the heaviest volume in seven months Tuesday, but prices failed to develop an over-all trend.

Final volume was 4,356,000 shares, the highest since the 1949-50 season. The 1949-50 season was a record for the market, with a total volume of 10,000,000 shares.

Western oil gains outnumbered losses about two to one. Base metals trading was narrow range and seniors and juniors closed steady. Gold prices were mostly small with a few exceptions. The market was active and heavy trading was seen in many sectors.

Montreal Mixed
MONTREAL (CP)—The market was mixed in Montreal, with some gains and some losses. The volume was also heavy, reflecting the overall activity in the market.

The Royal Bank of Canada

Capital Stock

The offer of shares of capital stock or rights in respect thereof made by the Bank to shareholders under date of July 1, 1954 did not, because of the prohibition in the Bank Act, include fractions of shares. After October 19, 1954, the date of expiry of the Bank's offer, the shares resulting from these fractions together with any shares not subscribed for will be disposed of by the Bank and the net proceeds of disposal in excess of $30 per share will be distributed to the shareholders entitled thereto.

The Bank considers it desirable for the protection of the shareholders directly concerned and in the interest of shareholders generally that arrangements be made for a ready market for these shares at a competitive price.

Accordingly, the syndicates of security houses indicated below have undertaken to make bids for the shares when their number is known after October 19, 1954.

You can bet your bottom dollar on Chevrolet
economy!
performance!
appearance!

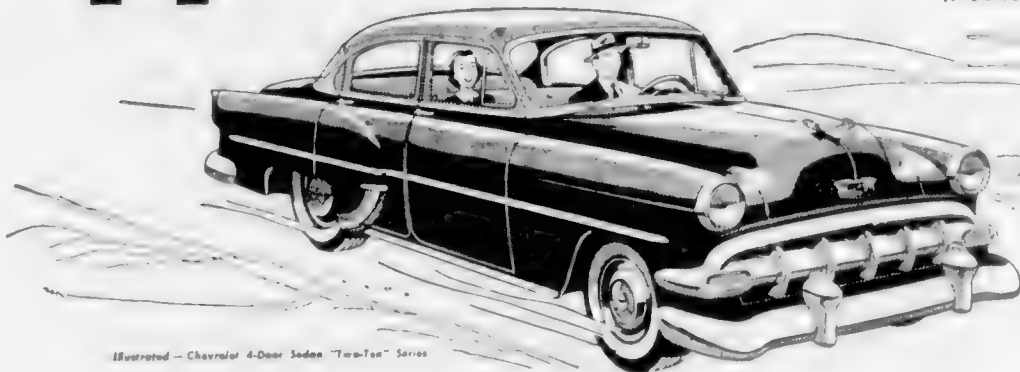

Buy it for less! But as important as price is, don't overlook Chevrolet value — for Chevrolet stands unchallenged in all the important advantages of modern motor car travel. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and see how this is the one car that will exactly fit your family's needs — and your family's budget.

Compare Chevrolet economy. Ask yourself: "What's the car's reputation? How is it on gas? On oil? On service?" It stands to reason that the car with the highest reputation in these vital ways would be in greatest demand — and Chevrolet has been first in demand — first in sales — for over two decades.

We leave this up to you. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and Road-Test Chevrolet's smooth and instant response. Test it in the traffic, on the highway, on steep hills. You'll agree that high compression, valve-in-head power can't be beaten — and only Chevrolet has it in the low priced field.

Let your own eyes tell you about Chevrolet's fine car beauty. And remember! Underneath that gleaming finish and sweeping style is famous Body by Fisher. That's your guarantee not only of lasting good looks, but of greater comfort, safety, and quality, also. See Chevrolet at your local dealer's today.

Horsemen Want Rest of Meet Transferred to Lansdowne Park

ANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—Horsemen here and in the United States are asking that the remainder of the annual meet at the Victoria Race Track be transferred to Lansdowne Park, Ontario, because of the poor condition of the track here.

The request was made by the British Columbia Horsemen's Association, which has been fighting for the transfer since the track was closed for repairs last year.

The track was closed for repairs last year because of the poor condition of the track, which was caused by the heavy rain and the resulting mud.

The association is asking that the remainder of the meet be transferred to Lansdowne Park, Ontario, because of the poor condition of the track here.

What's news at Inco?

Delivering concrete by blow-pipe

You have seen concrete pouring down a rough hole in a mine. Can you imagine this heavy, wet concrete being carried by a blast of air through a blow-pipe? Blow up more than 200 feet, down around corners, using the level or straight down the full length.

When Inco engineers decided that there would be advantages in using concrete instead of wood as supports in many parts of the Creighton mine they had to find a way to transport the wet concrete from the mixer to the working locations.

A continuous blast of air from the mine's high pressure system is used to carry hundreds of tons of concrete through the intricate mine workings. With new methods such as this Inco is continually improving the efficiency of its mining operations.

gives schoolgirls a lovelier more manageable wave!

With Prom you get soft, natural-looking waves that fall into place with just a stroke or two of the brush... with a wonderful advantage on hair-to-hair contact, moisture. Prom's exclusive, fast-acting method neutralizes the entire curl... right to the very tips of the hair. No extra pin curls. Instead—beaming, lasting, stay-in-place waves that complement a mother as well as her daughter!

FAIL-PROOF METHOD!

- Apply lotion as hair is rolled in curlers. No straggly ends with Prom!
- Simply water rinse for fresh, clean hair that dries to soft, natural loveliness.
- Just let dry. No guesswork! No timing!

Little girls can play while their hair neutralizes automatically on the curlers!

EASY AND FAST—LASTS FOR MONTHS!

Fighting Mad Bus Riders Refuse To Pay More

VANCOUVER (CP)—Some fighting mad bus riders refused to pay the new 15-cent fare approved for the British Columbia Electric Company last week by the Public Utilities Commission.

The new fare is an increase of two cents and it became effective Tuesday.

One group of six rebellious elderly women boldly put 13 cents each into the fare box. The driver asked an additional two cents each.

"Try and get it," they shouted. "We're old age pensioners and can barely pay the 13 cents."

The driver reached into his pocket and deposited the difference into the fare box.

Other passengers cheered and applauded.

The Vancouver Labor Council (VLC) sent a telegram of protest to Premier Bennett asking the "unethical" higher British Columbia Electric fares.

It charged that the Public Utilities Commission had delayed action on the fare increase until just before the Labor Day holiday.

"This prevented citizen groups from taking action... before appeals against the decision were heard," said the telegram.

Pensioners have also protested, and plan a mass protest meeting, sponsored by the Vancouver Senior Citizen's Association.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Date of a government-supervised strike vote for 1,100 truck drivers in Vancouver and New Westminster will be set early next week, a labor department official said Tuesday.

The vote was requested by 31 cartage and storage firms on the Lower Mainland after truckers rejected a conciliation board award.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three new police cases were reported Tuesday by city health officials here bringing the year's total to 40. Latest cases involve a 50-year-old man, a five-year-old boy, and a 26-year-old woman. At this time last year there were 138 cases recorded.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alex Savage, 20-year-old bachelor, is the owner today of a new $15,000 furnished home.

The house, top program prize in the Pacific National Exhibition, was won by Savage Monday night.

"I don't know what I'll do with it," he said. "I've got to talk it over with my brothers first."

G. Stewart Lindsay, a salesman, took the top car prize, a Buick sedan. He already owns a 1954 Buick.

There was a record Labor Day crowd at the fair—145,521—bringing the total attendance to 871,426, which was 36,391 above the 1953 total.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The kids had money today, but their salesmanship cost some motorists $15.50 each.

The kids' sold parking space near the Pacific National Exhibition on Monday at 50 cents a car.

But there was a catch. The parking space was on city-owned boulevards.

When the car owners returned from the fair their cars had disappeared—towed to the police garage.

The penalty: A $10 fine for driving on the sidewalk to reach the boulevard; $2 for illegal parking; and $3.50 for the tow job.

Southern Lawmakers Seek Way Out of De-Segregation

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—While segregation to be handled at local levels. The Mississippi legislature met in special session to consider a constitutional amendment under which public schools could be abolished in favor of private schools if no other means can be found to circumvent the Supreme Court decision outlawing public school segregation.

In Atlanta, Harry Ashmore of Little Rock, executive editor of The Arkansas Gazette, told a closed session of the Southern States Cooperative Program of Educational Administration that ern schools would cause "intolerable social situations."

Mixed classes began in two military post schools and three Catholic parochial schools in Virginia. All are near Washington, D.C.

Virginia is maintaining segregation in its public schools.

At Hillsboro, Ohio, 50 Negro children enrolled Tuesday in two previously all-white elementary schools while only 17 reported to a third segregated school. The board of education called a special meeting to discuss the situation.

Ottawa Cuts Crop Guess

OTTAWA (CPI)—The government next week will reduce its 1954 wheat crop estimate possibly by 100,000,000 bushels or more in the wake of heavy prairie rust and continuing bad harvesting weather.

Federal authorities said Tuesday it will be the most drastic cut in many years, with determining harvest conditions forcing a slash of the original 513,000,000-bushel crop estimate.

Authorities tentatively estimated the wheat rust damage at 85,000,000 bushels and said many more millions likely will be lost through frost in the next two months.

Comic Creator Dies of Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bud the Chronicle Fisher, 69, creator of the "Mutt and Jeff" comic strip, died in Roosevelt Hospital Tuesday of cancer.

Fisher started his comic strips for the San Francisco Chronicle in 1907. His talents caught the eye of William Randolph Hearst, who signed him to a contract the next year.

Fisher was born Harry Con-

Protestant Church Commonwealth Right Answer, Says Archbishop

BY BRUCE LOWTHER

A sort of Commonwealth of churches and not organic unity is the aim of Protestant church members around the world, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Geoffrey Francis Fisher told a press conference shortly after his arrival in Victoria yesterday for a six-day stay.

"The 67-year-old Archbishop of Canterbury, first leader of the world Anglican Communion to visit Victoria and B.C., said, 'I devoutly hope organic unity won't come for some time... it would be the worst thing for Christendom.'"

Referring to the recent meeting of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill., he said, "We're after a free interchange of spiritual life... inter-communion and where necessary, interordination and interconsecration of bishops."

"When that comes, we can work together with no objections," he said.

Only 50 years ago, the various denominations of Protestant thinking were interested in each other only for purposes of controversy; now, all are on terms of friendship and there is increasing understanding.

FURTHER CHANGE
The archbishop said, "If 50 years can produce that change, I'm hopeful that another 50 years can see a further change."

"But I'm not impatient," he said. "We know where we want to go."

A major exception is the church of Rome, which, he said, "has not yet begun to learn what Christian fellowship means." He declined to elaborate on that statement.

The goal is autonomous churches, so close that there is complete harmony; "an authority of understanding exactly like the British Commonwealth," the archbishop added.

His Grace was unworried about political differences between the United Kingdom and the United States, calling such a "normal situation between friends."

WHY NOT DIFFER?
He asked, "Why shouldn't we differ while pursuing the same ends?"

"If we do differ," he said, "let us differ sensibly and don't get too excited about it... My concern is over those people whose professional job it is to exaggerate and play upon our differences."

He suggested the U.S. and the United Kingdom see which policy on China is the "most politic," and then the loser should "come along without protest."

A question about British commercial television led the archbishop into a dissertation on modern ways of life, with this comment:

8 a.m. and 11 a.m. at Christ Church, and at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Arena. The cathedral's new northwest tower and a stained glass window in Christ Church will be dedicated at the 11 a.m. service.

The archbishop disclosed yesterday that his salient aim was to make the church a "commonwealth of churches" and presented by the laity of Japan in 1948.

He attached to it two amendments from the cope worn by Archbishop Howie at the coronation of Queen Victoria in 1837.

OLD SCHOOLMATES
Other segments of the busy program, which starts today, are the reception for old schoolmates and pupils of the archbishop at Marlborough and Repton Colleges, to be held in the Empress Hotel at 4 p.m., and a reception and dinner at the Union Club for the clergy of the diocese at 7:30 p.m.

Tomorrow, the archbishop speaks to the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs in St. John's Hall at noon and will attend a formal dinner at Government House at 7:30 p.m.

The archbishop, the lieutenant-governor and party will fly to Comox Friday for the dedication of an RCAF chapel, but Mrs. Fisher will remain in Victoria for a reception and tea at Memorial Hall at 2:30 p.m.

A private garden party will be held at Government House at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Old Marlburians who wish to attend the reception should telephone S. M. Oliver at 8-3581, and Old Reptonians should telephone Donald Sayer at 4-6780.

The three most outstanding events in which the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Geoffrey Fisher will participate while in Victoria, will be broadcast by radio and probably by TV.

The Colonist will give full coverage to all events and services in which the Archbishop of Canterbury will appear.

Thursday the archbishop's address to the combined Canadian Clubs will be taped and broadcast by CTVI at 7 p.m.

Sunday, the 11 a.m. services at Christ Church Cathedral will be broadcast "live" by the same station at that hour, and in the same way the evening services at Memorial Arena, where His Grace also preaches, will be broadcast at 7:30 p.m.

RAIDS NET $1,700; POLICE HOLD MAN

Break-Ins Probed

Colwood Inn, City Shop Targets of Week-End Raids

Arrest of a suspect by Colwood RCMP last night climaxed police investigation of one of two break-ins in the Victoria area which netted thieves a total of $1,700 over the holiday week end.

Held for breaking and entering and theft of $1,200 from Colwood Inn on the Island Highway Monday evening is Richard Albert Brooks, about 35, of Millstream Road, Langford.

Meanwhile, city police continued their investigations into the $500 theft from Grand Spot News, 707 Yates.

Police said thieves forced a window on the second floor of the Colwood Inn sometime between 7:30 p.m. and midnight Monday and gained entrance to the living quarters.

The money was taken from the safe, which was not locked, but the thief missed another $1,000 which was sitting on top of the safe at the time.

The theft was discovered by Tommy Tucker, manager, when he went upstairs to do his books after the beer parlor had closed.

RCMP said Brooks would appear in Colwood court today.

The city theft was reported early Monday and H. A. Welch, proprietor of the Grand Spot, said $500 had been taken from the two metal cash boxes. Entry had been gained through a skylight.

Ship Afire At Sea

VIGO, Spain (AP)—Maritime monitors throughout Europe heard a report Tuesday night that a large unidentified freighter was ablaze off the northwest coast of Spain.

The British fishing vessel Suzy reported the big ship was burning some 15 miles north of Cape Villano.

A short time later the Spanish coastal radio station here received a message from the 3,686-ton Israeli freighter Henrietta Soud saying she had proceeded to the position given by the Suzy and could find neither the blazing ship nor the fishing vessel.

Nations Agree on Details Of SEATO; To Sign Today

MANILA (UP)—Final agreement was reached today on a treaty patterned after the Monroe doctrine binding eight nations together as a bulwark against aggression, colonialism and subversion in Southeast Asia.

Diplomats from the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand, Great Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States completed three days of secret talks and were to sign the historic document at 4 p.m. (4 a.m. EDT).

The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was regarded as a personal victory for U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who proposed it last April when the war in Indo-China was nearing a climax.

The SEATO pact contains these major provisions:

In the event a member nation is the victim of attack or subversion, the others will consult and, after satisfying constitutional requirements, go to the aid of the injured nation.

The eight nations will co-operate in improving the economic health and social well-being of each other in order to combat subversion.

Softhearted Stevedores Save Minnie the Moocher

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen's hearts Tuesday proved stout enough—with the help of an air drill—to melt concrete, and tough Minnie the Moocher survived a week in a tomb.

Minnie is an alley cat, mother of a litter of eight. Her first glimpse of life six years ago was of Brooklyn's Pier 33, and Pier 33 has been her virtual horizon since.

The burly stevedores who frequent the pier adopted her as their own. She was a plague to waterfront rats.

Six days ago Minnie crawled down under Pier 33 to keep cool. Shortly thereafter, because the pier needed repair, a gang of men with concrete mixers appeared, and in 800 feet of 15-inch concrete blossomed where none had been before.

The treaty marks the first important formal agreement between East and West to join forces against subversion and aggression.

And, despite Communist charges that it was "a war alignment from head to bottom," it is defined as a strictly defensive pact in line with the United Nations Charter.

The treaty left the door open for other nations in Southeast Asia to join SEATO. The treaty area excluded Formosa and the Republic of Korea.

Canada's New Bank Notes Now Circulating in City

Canada's new bank notes—the first bearing the Queen's likeness—went into circulation in Victoria yesterday at several banks.

It is the start of a change-over involving about 160,000,000 notes worth about $1,500,000,000. The average value of bills in circulation at any given time.

The new notes are very different to the old ones. The Queen's picture is switched to the right from the traditional centre, and the bills are one-eighth of an inch shallower at 3½ inches.

Colors of the two-tone notes are deeper and richer, but basically the same.

A prairie grain field is shown on the green-grey $1 bill; a Central Canadian village is on the peach-orange $2 note.

A pine scene and river rapids are featured on the blue-mauve $5 bill; a Rocky Mountain peak fills the $10 salmon-purple note.

Straight Contest Favored

YOUNGSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Florence Chadwick yesterday challenged two of Canada's outstanding long-distance swimmers to be with her next year when she attempts the Strait of Juan de Fuca between Victoria and Port Angeles.

Miss Chadwick, who failed to last six hours in the icy waters off Victoria last month, challenged Mrs. Winnie Roach Leuzler, 28, of St. Thomas, Ont., and Marilyn Bell, 17, of Toronto.

She said the strait was "the Mount Everest of channel swims."

Miss Chadwick's challenge came yesterday after both girls said they would swim against the crack San Diego swimmer in her attempt to cross Lake Ontario.

The swim was once again postponed last night as a near 30-mile-an-hour breeze churned the lake into white-capped frenzy.

Organic Unity Wrong For Churches—Fisher

Archbishop Outlines Protestantism Need

A sort of Commonwealth of churches and not organic unity is the aim of Protestant church members around the world, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Geoffrey Francis Fisher told a press conference shortly after his arrival in Victoria yesterday for a six-day stay.

In Canada, he saw great ranches on the Prairies where people have plenty of time to think. . . . "They are the salt of the earth; they have more time to live and are a better kind of person than the townsman," whose life is somewhat artificial.

A discussion of divorce led the archbishop to disclose "the deepest joy of my life is this work with people trying to construct something."

He denied that the church ejects divorced persons who remarry, and stated church policy allows them to be readmitted to communion at the discretion of bishops.

Program 'Radiolift' Keeps CKDA on Air

Radio station CKDA of Victoria is in the midst of a "radiolift" of its entire program schedule because of major technical difficulties which cropped up Sunday morning.

Officials said last night, the delicate microwave unit which connected CKDA's downtown studios with the new $100,000 transmitter on Chatham Island was damaged, but should be back to normal "very shortly."

The microwave system was being used temporarily until a cable was strung 9,700 feet to Chatham Island later this month.

All programs are being taped recorded at the downtown studios. They are then rushed to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club by taxi and taken to the transmitter by boat or small plane.

The recordings, which are re-played as close to the regular CKDA schedule as possible, are going on the air about 30 minutes after they are made at the studios, and the ferry trip to the island is being made once an hour.

CKDA was off the air for about seven hours Sunday after the damage occurred.

Planned Building Biggest in World

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan is being considered to erect "the largest structure in the world" on the site of "Grand Central Terminal, Robert R. Young, chairman of the New York Central Railroad, said Tuesday. This would mean tearing down the present terminal building.

Young said this plan was among a number submitted by architects and developers on request so that the "fair rights" of the space above the terminal could be utilized because of high taxes paid by the railroad on the terminal.

The plan in question, said

Young was proposed by William Zeckendorf, president of the big New York building firm of Webb and Knapp—and is being considered along with the others. Young did not say how soon any action would be taken.

"It is their estimate that a new building which would be the largest structure in the world containing upward of 5,000,000 square feet of area could produce a return commensurate with its cost and the value Dewey."

Webb and Knapp said their plan is for an 80-story single tower with an elevated plaza and an observation tower.
